Using the information from the previous chart, explain your leadership qualities & experiences & tell how they would help you be an effective Ohio FCCLA Executive Council member.

My entire high school career has been spent being a leader. I have been section leader in both our school's choir and band, and was sought after for honors music ensembles (both locally and statewide) because of my dedication to my position in those activities. I am involved in the National Honor Society, where I hold good standing, and participated in the 2024 Ohio Mock Trial case. Regarding FCCLA, I have competed at regional, state, and national FCCLA competitions with the national program FACTS and am currently competing with the national program Community Service. I have been the public relations officer of Fairbanks FCCLA for two years. Something about me is that it is difficult for me to just sign up when events come. I want to be involved in the planning of the events. Everything I am involved in, I strive to be a leader. My leadership qualities have been built because of these positions. Because of these various leadership opportunities, I have become more confident in myself, a better listener, a better problem-solver, a better student, a better person, and someone who doesn't back away from a challenge. I have used the skills I have learned through these leadership roles to become the best FCCLA member I can be. I want to make a bigger impact in FCCLA by being a member of the Ohio FCCLA State Executive Council. As a member, I will listen to the concerns of chapter members across Ohio. I will rise to the challenge with the confidence that I can complete it well. I will use my problem-solving abilities to help my fellow Executive Council members solve the obstacles that will inevitably rise in this position. The leadership qualities I have learned from my various leadership roles have been essential in helping me become a better FCCLA member and chapter officer. Having refined these skills, I am ready to take them where I know I can use them to make a bigger impact on the FCCLA community: the Ohio FCCLA Executive Council.
