Using the information from the previous chart, explain your leadership qualities & experiences & tell how they would help you be an effective Ohio FCCLA Executive Council member.

I have gained many valuable skills as a member of many activities in my school and community. Through these activities, I have strengthened my public speaking, communication, responsibility, resourcefulness, problem solving, and adaptability skills. Especially as an FCCLA officer, I have had the opportunities to develop and strengthen my leadership skills and because of these activities, I am prepared to be an Executive Council member. Through my experiences, I have had the ability to publicly speak to many different groups of people including our whole student body, our board of education members, and many community members. I am able to help run our chapter meetings as an officer, I often speak at our school pep rallies, our Veterans day assembly, our board of education meetings, and many other events. Additionally, this has also allowed me to have many opportunities to become a better communicator. I have been able to talk and communicate with so many people, both my age, and older than me, and I have been able to learn so much from all of them and practice good communication skills. Throughout having many tasks to complete in a timely manner, I have also developed my responsibility, time-management, and work ethic skills. I often have a full plate and I must manage to complete all of it, while also putting a great amount of effort into it. As our chapter Vice President of Finance, I have been able to work creatively and continuously to fundraise for our chapter. Between meeting costs, service events, Career Development Events, and other activities, running a chapter can be costly, and I have been able to successfully fundraise for our chapter to expand many of our programs. Lastly, while completing all of my responsibilities within everything that I do, I inevitably run into challenges and have to be resourceful, adaptable, and I have had to learn to solve problems quickly and well. All of my experiences will allow me to be an effective council member because I have been able to fully develop my skills and this will allow me to always be prepared for anything that will come my way. Through my experiences, I am prepared to communicate with everyone who I meet as a council member, I will be able to address large groups of people, and I will be able to handle the large workload that comes with being a member of the Executive Council.
